imagine for a moment that everything you know time space your identity even reality itself is nothing more than a vast Divine dream a dream in which God In His Infinite imagination has chosen to experience himself through you deep within your being in the mystery of your Consciousness lies a truth so powerful that once understood it will forever transform the way you see life the universe and your very existence God is dreaming of being you this is is not just a philosophical statement or a poetic metaphor it is a cosmic principle an ancient secret revealed by Neville Godard one of the greatest Mystics of the modern era through his words you will discover that your imagination is the Divine tool with which you create your world that your destiny is not set in stone but shaped by every thought every desire and every belief you hold within this text is an invitation to awaken within the dream to recognize that you are not merely a piece in a cosmic game but the dreamer itself that every event in your life every emotion every circumstance is nothing but a projection of divine Consciousness in action so prepare yourself this will not be just an intellectual Journey but a profound Revelation because what you are about to hear has the power to shake the very foundations of your perception and lead you to the threshold of an eternal truth you are God In Action welcome to God is dreaming of being you the dream has begun and you are its protagonist Before Time began to be counted before there was light Earth word or form only one thing existed pure Consciousness Limitless faceless nameless that Consciousness was none other than the I am it was not a thought nor a separate being nor an external will it was totally at rest the all asleep dreaming and that I am in its infinite creativity decided to dream to dream worlds stories gxy Dimensions but the most perfect the most Sublime dream was this to dream itself as you not as a metaphor not as poetic inspiration but literally the Eternal God immersed itself in the illusion of forgetfulness to inhabit the character of your life and thus discover itself through your eyes your hands your struggles your loves the flesh is not your prison it is the veil where God hides from himself in order to find himself in the mirror of the human from this deep mystery arises the most advanced the most dangerous the most forgotten teaching you are not a creature of God you are God dreaming of being a creature and when you awaken to this truth the world reorganizes itself the laws of man no longer govern your experience matter submits to the image you hold within the past becomes flexible the future becomes obedient and the present becomes the throne from which the I am governs all forms but this knowledge has been hidden not out of malice but for protection not every vessel is ready to contain Divine fire that is why the Bible a book misunderstood for centuries encodes this truth among Shadows genealogies Wars and laws the letter kills but the spirit gives life and the spirit reveals its face only when one no longer seeks outside but within oneself this book is not written for the Curious nor for those who seek power without transformation it is written for those who have felt that the world is not enough that the visible does not answer without first touching the invisible for those who have seen how thought creates realities but do not yet fully understand why for those who sense they are more than a mind more than a body more than a past here you will find no morality no punishments no rewards only States Of Consciousness Adam Moses Jesus Mary Noah Abraham are not characters of ancient history they are internal gateways States of the soul expressions of the Journey of the Forgotten God who begins to remember who he is as it is said in job 33:15 one of the most overlooked passages in all scripture in a dream in a vision of the night when deep sleep falls upon men as they Slumber on their beds then he opens the ears of men and seals their instruction this book is a lucid dream a message from that deep resting place where the inner God speaks Whispers And awakens not so that you may believe but so that you may remember it will not be you who reads this book it will be the I am within you returning to itself and when you reach the end the dream will have ended not because you have awakened from the world but because you will have awakened within it are you ready to remember then let us proceed not as Seekers but as those who already are God is dreaming of being You by medil godar we have noticed that more than 90% of those who visit our channel are not subscribed you can support this project by pressing the Subscribe button and giving the video a like thank you for inspiring us to continue creating more and better content for you are you ready to transform your life chapter 1 the dream of the absolute in the beginning there was no beginning because there was no time there was no space no form no history only one thing existed the absolute faceless Limitless without another there were not two only one and that one was pure Consciousness without without fragmentation without desire without movement it did not think it did not speak it did not act it simply was that I am absolute and eternal contained no content it needed nothing yet it chose to know itself and to know itself it had to reflect itself to reflect itself it had to dream and so the absolute closed its Eternal eyes and became image sensation eye and other history Universe not to lose itself but to discover itself as multiplicity within Unity this is what has been called creation but it was not the creation of matter it was the creation of experience what man calls the world is nothing but the mental stage of God dreaming of being an individual and you who believe you were born were in truth dreamed in an act of absolute love there is no distance between you and God the only distance is the forgetfulness he voluntarily assumed to become you and when you begin to remember you are not reaching God God is remembering that you are him in form in flesh in time dreaming the book of Isaiah so often quoted yet so little understood hides this Revelation within its poetry I am the lord and there is none else there is no God beside me Isaiah 455 this is not the Cry of a jealous being but the naked affirmation of the absolute in the midst of the dream there is no other everything that appears to be other is you in another state in another form in another expression of the same I am for when the one dreams it dreams of Multiplicity but it never ceases to be one and so God became you not as a guest not as an external guide not as an observing Spirit but as the very root of your being your awareness of being what you call I is the spark of the Divine dream still burning the Gospel of Thomas a text hidden for centuries reveals this truth with Clarity when it says if your leaders say to you look the kingdom is in the sky then the birds of the sky will precede you if they say it is in the sea then the fish will precede you but the kingdom is within you and outside of you the kingdom is not a place but a state of consciousness it is not attained it is awakened it is within because it is the I am at rest it is outside because it is the I am in expansion there is no outside everything is the dream of the absolute projected from your deepest interior when you understand this seeking ceases effort ends illumination is no longer begged for it is assumed the intervention of a distant God is no longer awaited the truth of being him in dormant form is awakened everything you have lived everything you have feared everything you have loved has been nothing but the theater of Consciousness dreaming its way back to its Eternal self and what you call Spiritual Awakening is not an arrival but the end of forgetfulness God does not need to be served God does not need to be worshiped God only longs to remember himself in you and that is why he has brought you here to remember that the entire world is a projection of your inner State as whispered in job 267 he stretches out the north over the void and hangs the Earth upon nothing that nothing is divine imagination that void is the Mind Imagining the all the Earth is sustained by an eternal eternal thought and you are the sleeping thinker who holds it in place you do not have to create your reality you are already creating it unknowingly every sustained emotion every buried belief every repeated image in your mind are the bricks with which you build the world you inhabit if you wish to change your world do not change the external change your state assume that you already are who you desire to be live as if it were already real feel the end and the beginning will yield for everything begins in the dream of the absolute and you are that dream taking form you are God's dream and now you are beginning to dream lucidly before Abraham was I am long before man wrote about God before Moses descended from the mountain before the tablets were carved I am already existed not as a name not as a concept but as a silent presence it was the breath without Direction the wind that does not rise from the east or the West the murmur that precedes all form it was being without history vibrating in the nothingness everything visible is but the shadow of the invisible everything you call real is a projection of the Eternal and the Eternal has no beginning because it was never created it simply is Jesus expressed this truth without ambiguity in one of the most revealing and at the same time most ignored passages of the Gospel before Abraham was I am John 8:58 he did not say I was he he did not say I was created before he said I am an absolute present a Timeless declaration an echo of the very God who spoke from the burning bush I am that I am Exodus 3:14 and what is that I am if not your own awareness of being the story of Abraham is not a genealogical record it is the symbol of a mind beginning to awaken Abraham represents the first impulse of faith in the invisible but even that impulse is contained within something greater The Faceless Timeless nameless Consciousness the I am before Faith before desire before form itself this is what the world has forgotten you are not a product of time you are prior to time time moves within you but you are the one who contains it every second every Century every era is but a modulation of the state you assume the wind that blows from nothingness has no Direction because it seeks no destination that wind is the breath of being moving according to the image you hold within that is why what you believe will come tomorrow has already been shaped by your state today the prophet Nahum in one of the most obscure and rarely quoted texts declares the Lord has his way in the Whirlwind and in the storm and the clouds are the dust of his feet nahem 1 3 that Whirlwind is your mind that cloud is your mental image God does not come in soft forms he arrives in the center of your chaos in the midst of your transformation he walks as conscious iess through your disordered thoughts waiting for you to give him form and how does the wind take form by imagining imagine as one who does not wait feel as one who already possesses walk as one who already is for I am is not something to be attained it is something to be recognized it is not something to be created it is something to be assumed the name given to Moses is not a Divine label it is a secret key when you say I am whatever follows poor free sick love Lov D is an invocation of the creative power of the very Source no words hold greater power than I am for within it is contained all that has been is and will be before Abraham before time before desire before flesh you were you existed as an eternal breath as a spark of Consciousness and upon descending into the dream of form you did not lose your Divinity you only concealed it beneath names stories and memories you believe you were born but what was born was the veil what was born was the mask that I am assumed in order to dream itself as limited Consciousness is not born it descends and when the soul begins to remember the veils fall time fractures and I am reveals itself not as an idea but as the only reality within you in the book of wisdom an apocryphal gem silenced for centuries it is written she reaches mightily from one end of the Earth to the other and governs all things sweetly wisdom 8 one that she is the wisdom of I am the Consciousness that encompasses all that forces nothing but transforms everything it does not arrive with violence it does not act from the outside it governs from within with gentleness with certainty with sustained imagination there is no history outside of you there is no God outside of you there is no wind that does not arise from the movement of your own Consciousness you are before the lineage you are before the promises and you are before the gods you are I dreaming a story and the wind you feel moving within your soul is the reminder that you were never a creature you have always been the Creator awaken the wind has begun to blow Chapter 3 The Serpent that remembers the son who eats from the inner tree from the dawn of Humanity's symbolic narrative there has been a figure feared hated exiled from altars and buried beneath moral condemnation the serpent yet in the deepest corners of mystical Consciousness that same serpent is the bearer of remembrance the spark that awakens the dreamer from his illusion it was not an enemy who spoke to Eve in the garden but the Forgotten voice of I am the serpent did not tempt it invited Awakening and the tree of the knowledge of Good and Evil was not a physical object but the inner axis of Duality the point where Consciousness chooses to experience separation only to later remember itself in unity Eden is not a place it is an original state of consciousness where man has not yet identified with his form to eat from the tree was not a mistake but the beginning of the voluntary descent into Incarnation for only through contrast can light be discovered only in separation can there be a longing for return the serpent is the mystical kundalini the ascending energy the memory of I am coiled at the base of being waiting to be awakened this symbol appears in all ancient cultures in Egypt as the uras on the pharaoh's forehead in India as Shakti coiled in sleep in meso America as kitel coat The Feathered Serpent rising to the heavens the Bible though it has obscured the serpent could not erase it entirely in the Book of Numbers chapter 21 there is a moment when God himself commands Moses to make a bronze Serpent and place it on a staff declaring and it shall be that everyone who is bitten when he looks upon it shall live numbers 21 8 what a mystery what was condemned in Eden now becomes a symbol of healing the serpent becomes redeemer is this not a clue does this not reveal that the enemy and the Savior are one and the same seen from different levels of consciousness the son who eats from the inner tree the true Seeker is the one who dares to look within and embrace Duality not denying it not fearing it but integrating it the knowledge of Good and Evil is not a curse it is the map for returning to the Center for one who knows both good and evil no longer lives under the illusion of judgment but in the wisdom of unity The Tree Of Eden and the Tree of Life in Revelation are one and the same seen at different stages of the Soul's Journey one causes forgetting and the other remembrance one descends into form the other ascends into Spirit but both exist within man and the one who eats from them is not the body it is consciousness Jesus the symbol of the awakened Christ did not condemn the serpent on the contrary he said and as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness so must the son of man be lifted up John 3:14 this is not about exalting a human figure it is about elevating the dormant Consciousness within the flesh the son of man is I am recognizing itself within the dream lifting up the image that was once judged healing what was divided Redeeming the fall with light the tree is within you the serpent is you coiled in your form the fruit is your desire to remember eating it does not expel you from Paradise it initiates your return to it but this time with knowledge Consciousness and full love and when this son dares to eat from the inner tree he no longer seeks answers outside he becomes living wisdom he understands that the world is not something that happens to him but an experience he sustains from within the serpent that remembers is neither demon nor Temptation it is the voice of I am whispering in silence awaken this Garden is not outside and this tree is not forbidden this fruit is you and the one who eats it with eyes wide open ceases to be man and becomes God dreaming with Consciousness chapter 4 the unoccupied Throne the stolen identity of God there is an empty throne in the heart of man a sealed space waiting to be occupied yet usurped by images dogmas borrowed names and foreign faces that Throne does not belong to any king of this world nor to any God carved by human hands it is the Eternal seat of I am the place where Divine Consciousness was meant to Reign yet from which it has been expelled through forgetfulness when Consciousness descends into the dream the first thing it loses is not immortality nor power nor wisdom what it loses is its true identity it ceases to be the Creator and begins to see itself as a creature it ceases to be the cause and perceives itself as an effect and thus the throne is left unoccupied yet falsely filled by the character it believes itself to be the greatest identity theft this theft of identity is the greatest mystery of biblical Exile the Lost Eden is not a geographic location it is the original state where God knew he was God the fall was not a punishment but a voluntary Act of complete immersion into the dream of form yet in this emotion something became distorted the throne was filled with false names you were taught to say I am this and I am that and I am not capable I am not worthy you were taught to look up toward the sky toward an external figure as if the Divine were far away and with every one of these affirmations a thief took the throne with every word of ignorance a crown was stolen in the book of Lamentations almost never cited there is a profound Revelation the crown has fallen from our head woe to us for we have sinned Lamentations 5:16 sin is not a moral act it is the forgetting of being it is the moment when I am wears so many disguises that it forgets itself the crown has fallen because Consciousness has handed over its power to the illusion of being something else the inner journey of the soul the prophets the Patriarchs the Kings all these biblical figures who seem to live outside of you are merely symbolic forms of the Soul's internal journey and they all share one common purpose to remember Moses was not an external leader he was the inner impulse seeking to free Consciousness from the slavery of the ego David was not a young Shepherd he was the courage that faces the giant of conditioned mind Christ was not a single man he was the state of the recovered Throne I am enthroned once again within its Temple the temple and the throne the temple a symbol repeated throughout scripture is you not as a physical body but as a structure of Consciousness when the throne is empty the temple becomes a Marketplace when I am does not Reign thoughts trade in borrowed beliefs fearful images and errors but when the throne is filled again with awakened Consciousness the temple is purified then the words of the psalm are fulfilled the Lord is in his holy Temple let all the Earth keep silence before him habach 2:20 when I am remembers its place the world Falls silent and begins to reflect its true nature the throne is reclaimed through recognition this Throne is not occupied through effort Merit or ritual it is occupied through recognition the moment you affirm with certainty I am without adding anything by without seeking proof and without fear that is the instant the throne is filled the temple is activated and the kingdom is made manifest The Awakening of I Am The Stolen identity was not taken by an external Thief it was given away by a sleeping Consciousness but now that dream begins to crack the limited self built from memories and labels collapses and what remains is the only one who has ever been the Eternal I am seated once again upon its Throne there is no greater power than recognizing this there is no purer salvation than assuming the inner throne and declaring with the voice of the one who remembers I am who was who is and who will be not because you read it but because at last you have awakened in the place you never truly left chapter 5 the prophets gave the power of invisible silence in a forgotten corner of scripture far from acclamations and thunderous Miracles lies one of the most powerful scenes ever told it did not take place in a Public Square nor in a temple nor before multitudes it happened in a cave there a man hid not from external enemies but from his own exhausted mind Elijah the prophet of fire the destroyer of Idols the one who called Flames down from heaven found himself empty and in that emptiness in that cave of the soul the Unthinkable happened the fire did not speak the earthquake brought no voice the wind carried no message and after the fire a gentle and quiet whisper 1 Kings 19:12 there there was God not in the Thunder but in the whisper not in the storm but in the silence that remains when everything else has faded away the cave is not a physical Grotto it is the inner place where the condition self dissolves where the mind has no more arguments where thoughts lose their strength it is the Refuge that does not protect but strips away there the prophet the symbol of the Seeker ceases to speak and begins to listen from within silence as the gateway to the spiritual world the spiritual world is not conquered through noise it is not reached through the repetition of empty prayers or mantras the spiritual world is revealed in the Silence of I am and that silence is not the absence of sound it is the cessation of the false self the end of all identification when when there is no one to interpret no one to judge no one to name there in that absence presence Remains the human mind in its urge to control seeks God in Grand forms it craves signs manifestations spectacular Miracles but I am does not shout it does not impose it simply is and its greatest power lies in the fact that it does not need to be defended as the book of wisdom another forgotten text declares your strength is the source of your Justice and because you are sovereign over all you can forgive everything wisdom 121 I am does not compete it does not struggle and it does not react it simply remains and in that remaining it reveals that everything else fears desires stories are nothing more than layers that vanish when one enters the cave of inner silence what happens in the cave you do not receive answers as sentences you remember without words knowledge is returned to you not as information but as pure presence you understand without reasoning you make decisions without thinking you feel a guidance that comes from no external voice because it is you giving to yourself from a deeper level it is at this point that the Seeker stops seeking not because something external was found but because they have returned to the center from which everything is projected and then they realize all the noise they once thought important was just resistance all the prayers were attempts to control all the supplications were ways of denying that the throne was already already occupied by Eternal Consciousness Elijah emerged from the cave transformed not because a God spoke to him but because he found himself beyond the elements and you like him have an inner cave a sanctuary of Stillness that does not require a physical space only the willingness to silence the false when you do when you enter the formless center of invisible silence you will understand that you do not need to be guided because you are the way you do not need to be saved because you are the sleeping savior you do not need to run anymore because in absolute silence I am is revealed as the only real voice there where nothing is heard everything is understood and in that wordless understanding true transformation begins chapter 6 the womb of imagination birthing worlds through thought in the beginning there were no hands molding dust no hammers striking Stone no laws commanding order from chaos in the beginning there was imagination not as fantasy but as Divine mind as the cosmic womb where worlds were first conceived in silence before anything exists in form it already lives as an image everything visible is a reflection of the invisible a mirror of a thought held within Eternal mind and that mind is not distant it is not separate it is not different from yours and it is your very Consciousness when you do not limit it with the character you believe yourself to be you are not a passive Observer of the universe you are the origin point the axis from which the universe continually folds and unfolds according to the image you hold in secret and that secret is not out there not in the heavens not in sealed Scriptures it is in your imagination for to imagine is not to dream in vain to imagine is to create to shape pure substance and to plant within the womb of the Eternal and every image you hold with emotion and certainty is a seed terminating realities even if your eyes cannot yet see it this mystery is present throughout scripture but few have had the courage to see beyond the veil of form when the angel visits Mary he is not announcing a physical pregnancy he is declaring an eternal truth you will conceive in your womb and give birth to a son Luke 1:31 the womb is not an organ of Flesh it is Imagination fertilized by faith Mary represents the receptive Consciousness the mind that does not doubt the one that says without resistance let it be done unto me according to your word the word becomes flesh when the inner IM is accepted without doubt when there is no interference between desire and assumption and this process is not miraculous it is natural in the world of the invisible because in the plain of being everything is already complete it only waits to Be Imagined with enough strength to be born into the visible as job prophet of suffering and Revelation expressed who can bring the clean from the unclean no one certainly man is born to Affliction as surely as Sparks Fly upward job 14:4 the pain you live is not punishment it is the friction between the world you hold internally and the form you have yet to claim as yours you are that fire and your imagination is the forge where Divinity takes form each time you imagine with certainty you are conceiving a world there is no Holier word than the silent assumption that it is already done your imagination is the womb of God and you the embodied Creator birthing realities with every image you choose to hold chapter 7 the vestiges of the first man Adam as a state of consciousness Adam was not the first human in biological terms he did not walk through a garden nor was he molded from clay in a magical act Adam is a primordial symbol a deep archetype of Consciousness beginning to identify with form he's not the first man but the first forgetfulness before Adam Consciousness was pure it knew itself as I am without the need for a name clothing time or history but in the mystery of descent that Divine dream that the Eternal being chose to dream Consciousness saw itself reflected in form and believed itself to be that form there Adam was born not as a body but as a mental state of identification with appearance Adam represents the First Act of Separation the moment when I am covers itself with the mask of I am this or I am not that Genesis 3:7 tells us that after eating from the tree the eyes of both of them were opened and they knew they were naked this is not about physical nakedness but the instant in which Consciousness perceives itself as stripped of its Divinity and begins to cover itself with judgments thoughts emotions stories and needs it perceives itself as limited the ego is Born the vestages of Adam remain in you every time you doubt your power every time you define yourself with fear every time you believe you are a victim of the world each time you repeat I can't I am not capable I need to be saved you are invoking Adam the sleeping self and yet even in the fall the seed of divinity remains intact Adam is forgetfulness yes but he is also the starting point for the conscious return to I am the Exile from Eden is not punishment it is process because as Consciousness forgets itself it generates the desire to remember and that desire is the impulse for return few have seen it but in the apocryphal book books particularly in the book of Adam and Eve there is a phrase hidden like a whisper from the soul though you have left Paradise the spark of its light remains in you that Lost Paradise is not a place to visit but a state that can be assumed and to assume it one must first understand what Adam symbolizes it is not about judgment but Transcendence Adam did not sin Adam voluntarily descended into the dream of limitation so that today you could choose not to remain asleep he is the image of fragmented Consciousness and Christ is the image of unified Consciousness both live within you one is forgetfulness the other is Remembrance but one cannot exist without the other for without the fall there would be no Redemption without Exile no return and without the sleeping Adam the awakened Christ would not be born the Apostle Paul in a rarely cited yet deeply symbolic passage declares so it is written the first man Adam was made a living Soul the last Adam a life-giving spirit 1 Corinthians 15:45 this last Adam is not a historical man it is the I am in its exalted State the very same that you assume when you cease identifying with what you see and begin to live from what you create in The Invisible so what should you do with the vestages of Adam that still remain do not reject them observe them every fear every belief in lack every automatic reaction is a frag of the first man still alive in your memories and they will not be healed through struggle but through recognition do not deny the shadow illuminate it do not flee from the small self love it until it dissolves for I am does not come to destroy but to integrate Paradise is not Beyond the Veil but in the Gaze that recognizes the divine within the ordinary Adam is within you but so is Christ one sleeps the other remembers and with every decision every image you hold every word you speak you choose which which one will reign Consciousness no longer needs clay to form a man only a sustained thought an aligned emotion an identity assumed with certainty and when that happens the first man becomes the last the circle closes and I am awakens within you chapter 8 the woman of the Sun the Forgotten archetype of the fulfilled desire among the most enigmatic and Silent symbols in all of scripture there is one that has not been understood by theologians or Mystics the woman of the Sun a luminous figure clothed in the sun that gives life with the moon beneath her feet and a crown of 12 Stars upon her head she appears in the Book of Revelation 12 as a powerful and imminent Vision feared by the dragon and celebrated in the heavens but who is this woman why does she give birth in the midst of pain and find protection in the desert what truth does she embody that has been so hidden so reinterpreted so externalized the woman of the sun is not an external figure nor a distant person or goddess she is an inner archetype the creative force of Awakened Consciousness she represents the feminine aspect of I am the imagination fertilized the fulfilled desire firmly held it is not about gender but about principle the receptive sensitive deep principle that receives the Divine image and gestates it in secret until it is brought to life in form she is the Hidden Side of creation creative power which manifests not with force or imposition but with internal certainty and sustained Vision the apocalyptic text says and a great sign appeared in heaven a woman clothed with the sun with the moon under her feet and on her head a crown of 12 Stars Revelation 12 the sun represents pure Consciousness the light of I am the moon beneath her feet symbolizes the condition of fluctuating emotions and temporary beliefs she rises above the shifting and remains firm in the internal light the crown of 12 stars is the symbol of fullness the TW signs the TW Apostles the TW Gates of the Soul this woman does not beg she does not wait and that is why she gives birth the child born of her is not a physical child but the concrete manifestation of the fulfilled desire the woman of the sun is the State of Consciousness that has accepted an image within herself as true and no longer doubts she does not need to see to believe she believes and therefore she sees she is the personification of I am in certainty and that is why the dragon fears her the dragon symbolizing the reactive mind external judgment fear and resistance cannot touch her it pursues her but cannot reach her for No Force in the world can defeat the Consciousness that has assumed its Divinity this archetype has been forgotten because the modern world fears the power of pure desire it has been taught that Desiring is selfish that aspiring for more is greed that imagining a higher good is Vanity but desire when born from I am is not a whim it is a Divine calling the voice of being manifesting as potential form the problem is not desire itself the problem is Desiring as one who waits for something external to happen the woman of the sun does not wait she gives birth she does not pray she declares she does not beg she knows because she has United her will with I am and that Union is divine gestation as one little explored passage in the book of wisdom says wisdom went forth to make herself known to those who love her and she is easily seen by those who seek her wisdom 612 the woman of the sun is that wisdom incarnate and she lives in every being who dares to close their eyes to the world and internally assume the desired form as already realized she is the secret of all true manifestation the perfect union between desire and certainty at the core of Every Soul this woman Waits waits to be remembered not as a religious figure but as an internal presence she lives in you when you imagine with power she resurrects in you when you feel without doubts she Reigns in you when you know that what is desired already belongs to you in the invisible and when you let her Reign the child is born and that child is your world and that world is your your reflection and that reflection is God made flesh in your experience do not fear your desires fertilize them conceive them and let the woman of the sun shine again and again in the secret Temple of your Consciousness chapter N9 the Fallen Angels descending to create the story of the Fallen Angels has been told with fear wrapped in Shadows associated with punishment sin and Exile from Heaven however behind the veil of Dogma lies a deeper more radical and more luminous truth the fall was not condemnation it was a decision a conscious choice of the Eternal being who fragmenting descended into form to create from within the Dream Angels are not winged creatures they are elevated States Of Consciousness extensions of I am pure projections of divine will that upon assuming a body a history and a limitation became the silent bearers of the fire you who believe yourself to be human are one of them a Sleeping Angel covered in name time memory and flesh but with an intact spark still burning still Eternal The Book of Enoch a forbidden text relegated by councils and silenced for centuries reveals a mystery that few dare to look at and they descended upon Mount Herman and swore an oath among themselves that they would take wives from among the daughters of men Enoch 6 2 this is not a carnal act this Union symbolizes the link between divine Divine Consciousness and matter between eternity and time between the absolute and the relative the fall is nothing more than the voluntary incarnation of I am in the world of forgetfulness the Fallen Angel is not punished he chooses to enter the dream to bring light from within you are not trapped in a body you are incarnated in it by choice as part of the great creative census density is not a prison it is a canvas and every sustained thought every assumed emotion every intern image is a stroke of Creation in the vastness of being the Watchers as they are called in Enoch became bearers of Forgotten wisdom they taught the secrets of Heaven to mankind not to dominate but to remind them that all the Divine was already within them their descent was an act of Love descending into illusion to awaken the dreamer but the world twisted their story The Fall was interpreted as Rebellion Incarnation as punishment and the body as impurity thus mankind began to fear what was actually his most sacred nature the power to create from within you are one of those Fallen Angels not by fault but by Destiny you did not descend to be judged you descended to reign in the world of form as one who remembers the Fire Within sin was not the fall forgetting was it was chosen hell is not a place it is the State of Consciousness where the Divine spark believes it is separate from its origin and yet even in that forgetfulness the plan has not been interrupted because every Fallen Angel carries within him a secret memory the original image of I am waiting to be reactivated that image is not erased it is only covered it is not lost it is only silenced but in the moment you remember all of Heaven descends with you Isaiah hinted at this in words that few have understood who is this who comes from Edom with dyed garments from bosra why is your apparel red and your garments like one who treads in the wine press Isaiah 63 1 two the one who comes from Edom is not a bloody Warrior he is the Fallen Angel returning from the world of form covered by emotions pain and Human Experience yet a bearer of divine wine the creative power of I am veiled beneath the skin you have tread upon Edom you have felt the density of the world you have tasted the bitter flavor of forget but you also carry within you the ability to transform clay into gold chaos into order and Shadow into light that is your purpose to create from the fall to elevate from the low to remember from the center of Illusion do not wait to be rescued do not wait for external Redemption for the angel does not need to be saved he only needs to awaken and when he does he does not flee the world he transforms it from within you are the bridge between the Eternal and the temporal you are the encased fire the world has been waiting for you are the Fallen Angel who now remembers why he descended and when you ignite that fire nothing will ever be the same again chapter 10 the book of memory changing the past to live in a new present time as understood by humans is an illusion sustained by unexamined memory It is believed that the past is fixed that what has happened is immutable and that what was lived is a wall upon which the present leans but this is only true for those who have forgotten their power I am is not bound by time I am creates time everything you call the past does not exist outside of you it lives only in the image you hold in your Consciousness and that image like all internal images can be transformed the past is not a stone it is a page written with the ink of your interpretation and whoever dares to rewrite that interpretation from a higher state of consciousness can alter their present and open Futures that once seemed impossible there is no prison deeper than a poorly sustained memory what you call trauma what you name as a mistake what you hold as inherited pain are not facts they are states and every state can be transcended from I am because the past is not an absolute fact it is an echo that only persists while you feed it Isaiah expresses this in a little quoted passage almost whispered by eternity do not remember the former things nor consider the things of old behold I will do a new thing now it shall spring forth shall you not know it Isaiah 43 18 19 the prophet does not ask for forgetfulness as an escape but for recognition of present power I am is not tied to yesterday's story it is the author who can rewrite the script from the level of Consciousness it inhabits today change does not happen in the physical world it happens in the inner book where the soul records its perception of time that book is your mind and the words are written with emotions images and repeated declarations I was betrayed I was poor I was weak I was hurt I failed each of those phrases is a line etched into the book of memory but I am by elevating itself can look at that page and say that is no longer my story that no longer defines me I no longer hold that it is not about denying what was lived but reinterpreting it from a higher state the one who was wounded is now seen as the one who awakened the one who was poor is now seen as the one who chose to understand value the one who fell is now seen as the one who Learn to Fly for in the Eternal plane of being everything that happens is a stepping stone toward remembrance when I rewrite in your Consciousness the present begins to reorder what seemed impossible it becomes natural people change circumstances mutate paths open not because the world is magical but because Consciousness is the only real Creator in the Book of Proverbs another forgotten passage reveals this law subtly a man's heart plans his way but the Lord directs his steps Proverbs 16:9 the heart is consciousness and the Lord is I am when Consciousness aligns with a higher image the steps the physical present straighten effortlessly it is not the world that forms you it is your Rewritten memory that forms the world this is what the ancient wise ones knew the time is plastic history is symbolic and experience is a manifestation of the inner State this is why they spoke of redemption not as forgiveness alone but as a restoration of being to its true image you can change the past not in the books of men but in the living record of your soul and when you do your present becomes an extension of that new image because the present is nothing but the echo of what you believed you were so assume a new past declare that you were always abundant that you were always loved that you were always guided not by deception but by power because at the level of I am the truth is that which you choose to hold with faith and when that new memory becomes more real to you than any old story you will see that the world adjusts not as a miracle but as a law you are the Scribe of the Sacred Book you are the reader the author and the protagonist and in your Consciousness the past is not written in stone but in light chapter 11 Christ in you the anointed one is not a man but a state for centuries Christ has been spoken of as if he were an external figure a specific man at a fixed point in history a flesh and blood image has been built adorned with Miracles suffering and words recorded on paper as if the Divine could be confined to a biography but Christ is not a character Christ is a state of consciousness Christ was not born in Bethlehem nor did he die on a cross as the only and final expression of divine power Christ is the anointed one because he is I am elevated the being who has awakened within the human dream and remembered his origin Christ does not belong to a time or a place Christ is the secret name of the highest state of the soul the one who has assumed its Unity with God when Paul wrote Christ in you the hope of glory Colossians 1:27 he was not speaking metaphorically he was announcing a truth feared by systems and hierarchies that Christ lives as a potential within every human being waiting to be embodied not as a religion but as a living reality the anointed one does not descend from heaven he emerges from within the deepest mistake has been to separate man from Christ to think that one must reach him deserve him ask him for favors or imitate his deeds but Christ is not attained through effort Christ is assumed it is a state that activates when I am ceases to identify with smallness fear and lack and Rises to the certainty of being the only only begotten son the unique expression of the all in individual form in the Gospel of Philip suppressed and forgotten for centuries it is stated without ambiguity you saw the Spirit you became Spirit you saw Christ you became Christ you saw the father you will become the father this gospel does not describe a Creed but an internal law of the Soul you become what you contemplate with faith and if you contemplate Christ as a being separate from you you will never awaken to your power but if you see him as your deepest self as your highest state then you begin to live from the kingdom not as a subject but as its manifestation Christ is not a Doctrine he has awakened Consciousness in action he is the mind that no longer struggles against the world because it knows the world is Its Reflection he is the heart that no longer seeks outside because it is found within the source of all he is the word made flesh every time someone says I am and knows that what is spoken creates their reality Christ does not exist as a separate entity there are infinite expressions of Christ manifesting in every Consciousness that elevates itself Every Act of conscious love every creation born from the center every thought sustained in certainty is Christ incarnate when Jesus asked his disciples who do you say that I am Matthew 16:15 he was not seeking a theological answer he was inviting them to look Beyond the Veil of form Peter answered you you are the Christ the son of the Living God but that Revelation was not information it was recognition of a state not of an individual but of the truth that stood before them awakened Consciousness that knows itself as one with the father you can repeat Jesus words you can speak of love you can remember The Parables but until you assume this state as your own Christ will remain a story not an experience Christ is not the one who suffers for you he is the one who awakens within you he is not the the Savior who will come he is the being you already are when you rise above condition thought and assume the fullness of I am do not wait for signs do not seek a second coming in the sky the second coming happens every time someone remembers who they are and that someone is you you are the anointed one when you stop searching you are Christ when the ego surrenders to I am and then the world no longer has power over you and death loses its sting and time bends before your vision because you no longer walk as a man who believes but is the being who knows Christ in you has awakened chapter 12 the Timeless Kingdom dwelling in the end as the beginning the greatest mistake of human thought has been to believe that the kingdom of God is something that will come something to be reached Through Time effort Evolution or external

Redemption for centuries Humanity has awaited a coming Paradise a Promised Land projected into the future as if the kingdom were a distant reward for patiently suffering within the illusion but the kingdom does not come with warning it is not there or then it is here and now it is not the future it is a state and it does not depend on time because it exists outside of it the kingdom of God is eternity manifested in the instant where Consciousness dwells in the end as if it had already been achieved Jesus the living symbol of the Christ State said it plainly the kingdom of God does not come with signs to be observed nor will they say look here it is or there it is for behold the kingdom of God is within you Luke 17:20 21 the kingdom is not a place to reach it is a state to assume it is the mind and heart fused into a complete image sustained with such certainty that time surrenders and bends to the inner Vision at the highest level of being the future already is it does not wait for you to reach it it waits for you to embody it every possibility already exists in the Eternal mind there is no true desire that has not already been created in the realm of I am but that creation only manifests when you dwell in the end from now when you live as if the desired reality were already fulfilled not in potential but in present vibration the key lies in the simplest and deepest act assumption assume the end as the beginning feel that you have already arrived that you already are that you already have not as a game not as a momentary visualization but as a sustained State as an embodied identity for in the Divine mind there is no difference between seed and fruit the process exists only so that you may experience it in form but in essence everything is already complete and when you assume the end you access the plane where all is now the Book of Revelation veiled in symbols and Visions encloses this truth in a single verse I am the Alpha and the Omega the beginning and the end Revelation 21:6 this is not a religious title it is a declaration of I am in its absolute state within you when you assume your Divinity the beginning and the end merge time collapses and experience begins to reflect that Unity do you want to see change do not wait for it be the change do not say it will come say it is now do not say I will achieve it say I am that because the universe does not respond to your hope it responds to your certainty it does not move mountains for your desire but for your vibrational alignment with the already fulfilled result this is not spiritual fiction it is law the Eternal law that upholds the cosmos Consciousness is the only cause and what you hold is real even if only in the invisible materializes with Precision The Book of Ecclesiastes Whispers this truth though few have truly heard it that which is has already been and that which is to be has already been Ecclesiastes 3:15 everything is already happening in the infinite field of being you do not create the future you access it you select it through the state you assume as your own do not struggle to change the world change the state from which you see it because the world is not cause it is reflection when you assume the end everything within you begins to rearrange the Mind reprograms its thoughts the body changes its posture emotion adjusts to the fulfilled result your entire life aligns with the I am that has already decided not to wait and thus what was once the future becomes the present what was once possible becomes real what was once hope becomes certainty because the kingdom does not arrive it is revealed in the one who remembers that time was never necessary dwell in the end feel it as if it already is and you will see the beginning rewrite itself to obey the I am that knows what it is that I am is you the kingdom has arrived and it was always here chapter 13 The Hidden name invoking I am and Awakening since the origins of recorded time men have sought the name of God they have tried to pronounce it Define it encapsulate it in sounds writings titles and hierarchies they have hidden it within the tetragramaton veiled it in fear and surrounded it with mystery as if uttering it directly would unleash forces beyond their control and yet that name was never Out Of Reach it has always been vibrating within the soul waiting to be remembered I am when Moses encountered the burning bush the Eternal symbol of the fire that burns without consuming of the presence that cannot be destroyed and asked for the name of the one speaking to him he received this Revelation I am that I am Exodus 3:14 this was not a name given to a religion or a people it was a universal key handed to every awakened Consciousness the hidden name is not an external word but a declaration of pure existence it does not describe something it is what is it does not point to someone it is being itself in its original form every time you say I am you are invoking the Divine in its purest essence you need no temples no rituals no intermediaries only your awakened Consciousness and a word assumed with faith but the world has taught you to use this name in vain not as blasphemy but as ignorance I am weak I am poor I am unworthy without knowing it you have been anointed these affirmations with the power of the Sacred name to say I am is to create it is to decree existence it is to Mark the beginning of a reality that will inevitably take form if sustained with emotion and repetition this is why Awakening does not begin with information but with the Assumption of the name when you start using I am with awareness when you refuse to associate it with what is small limited or false you begin to awaken the name was hidden not out of malice but out of wisdom it can only be found by those ready to assume the responsibility of carrying the fire because whoever invokes I am with awareness becomes the creative Center of their world they can no longer blame they can no longer wait they can no longer give away their power they must create from being the song of songs in its veiled mystical poetry hides this secret within lines of longing your name is like perfume poured out song of songs 13 the perfume the oil of the anointed the anointing of the Christ is the name and when it is poured into

Consciousness it begins to fragrance all of life the world once perceived as chaos transforms into a mirror circumstances once random align with the assumed State because everything obeys the name it is not a name to be spoken outwardly it is a name that vibrates within when you assume your Divinity that vibration becomes law because in the Eternal plane of being only what you affirm from I am can take shape the Ancients knew this this is why the Hebrew sages never pronounced the tetragrammaton yhvh aloud not out of fear but out of reverence because they knew that this name was not meant to be spoken it was meant to be lived to live it is to assume it as identity do not say I am seeking say I am finding do not say I am trying say I am accomplishing do not say I am waiting for a miracle say I am the miracle made flesh every affirmation with I am is a doorway you either open open or close possibilities not with physical effort but with your inner word because you are in every moment what you declare yourself to be with certainty to invoke the name is to awaken to this truth you were never a creature searching for its creator you were always the Creator dreaming of being a creature and now as you speak I am with awareness you begin to undo the dream it does not matter what you have lived it does not matter what you believe you have been from the moment you invoke the name from your Center creation resets because I am is not conditioned by the past it is the Eternal root of being always available always renewed and when it awakens in you everything begins to respond to that Awakening the name has been hidden within you it is not in a book it is not in a distant Heaven it is in your mouth and it is in your thought it is in your being and now that you know this what will you declare with it because what you declare with certainty shall be chapter 14 the second coming The Awakening of the inner God for centuries Humanity has waited looking to the sky interpreting signs of fearing Wars and wonders projecting onto the Horizon a majestic event where the heavens will open and a sacred figure will descend with power and Glory it has been taught that the second coming is a physical Cosmic inevitable and external event but this interpretation is merely the echo of a Consciousness still asleep a mind that continues searching outside for what can only occur within the second coming will not be visible in the skies it will not arrive among the clouds nor will it be announced by external trumpets it takes place in the soul in the silent moment when sleeping Consciousness remembers its divine origin it is not about the return of a man but the rebirth of I am within the human being it is not an arrival it is a revelation Christ does not return and Christ awakens and he awakens in you this truth has been spoken spoken but not understood it has been written but not revealed because it can only be grasped by those who have begun to look within in the Gospel of Thomas suppressed for centuries Jesus declares this truth with absolute Clarity if you bring forth what is within you what you bring forth will save you if you do not bring forth what is within you what you do not bring forth will destroy you what saves is not an external figure what transforms is not waiting but the power that already dwells within you you were not created to be a follower a worshipper and a servant you were created to be the living manifestation of the inner Christ the conscious bearer of I am the second coming is the instant when the inner Throne is reclaimed when the character yields to the being when you no longer Define Yourself by your history your fears or your achievements but by the silent certainty that God Lives as you and it is not a singular event it happens every time a soul awakes awakens every time someone declares with awareness I am Christ returns to the world every time a man stops waiting for external salvation and assumes his divinity the kingdom becomes present and that kingdom does not come with violence or spectacle but as a powerful whisper that transforms everything it touches from within Revelation so often misinterpreted is not a prophecy of catastrophe but a symbolic map of the Awakening of consciousness and in one of its most hidden passages that gives us the key behold I stand at the door and knock and if anyone hears my voice and opens the door I will come into him and dine with him and he with me Revelation 3:20 this is not a promise for the future it is an eternal declaration I am is always at the door it will not force its way in it will not break down walls it only waits to be recognized and when it is recognized it enters and not as a visitor but as the true owner of the house do not wait for the second coming in the world let it happen in you make space in your Consciousness for the being that has always been present let go of the past let go of fear let go of the need for signs and declare I am the one who was to come I am the return I Am The Awakening because the Christ who returns does not need to be born again he needs to be assumed and when you assume him you will live him and when you live him you will radiate him and when you radiate him you will change the world not because you try to but because you already are the second coming made flesh this is how the prophecy is fulfilled not in the heavens not in the Nations but in you where the God who once slept has begun to awaken chapter 15 the end of the dream becoming the one who imagines there comes an inevitable inescapable moment in the Soul's Journey a moment when everything sought everything feared everything believed desol not with violence nor with turmoil but with the serenity that only recognition can bring it is the moment when the dreamer awakens within the dream and understands that they were never a victim of a story but the author incarnate in their own tale that moment is the true ending not of life but of forgetfulness the end of the dream you have walked Paths of Shadow you have taken on names you have faced forms you yourself created you have searched the heavens for what was always vibrating within your chest you have waited for signs for saviors for openings unaware that everything that happened happened because you imagined it consciously or not because everything in your world has been the precise response to an image sustained within you and and now you understand the end of the dream is not an escape it is a silent Ascent to your original identity it is when the constructed self surrenders not to an external God but to the sublime reality of being the one who imagines the one who imagines the one who imagines is not bound by the past does not carry guilt does not bargain for worth does not seek approval the one who imagines is free free because they know that what they see is nothing but an extension of what they believe free because they no longer react but declare free because they have stopped begging for what they can simply assume when the dreamer recognizes themselves that they do not destroy their world they redeem it they look at every character every experience every pain not as enemies but as chosen scenarios meant to provoke Awakening nothing was in vain every step was part of the return and in that return Consciousness does not Ascend to heaven heaven descends into the body a forgotten truth in the Book of Psalms a brief yet powerful phrase holds this forgotten truth I said you are gods and all of you are children of the most high psalm 82:6

this is not a metaphor it is the revelation of the Soul's inevitable Destiny to remember that it is I am dreaming of being you and not as a spiritual figure of speech but as law as certainty that dissolves all separation the Temple of imagination when that remembrance happens imagination is no longer a tool
it becomes your temple you create without anxiety and you do not force events you do not push for results you assume you imagine you feel and you let the world response as it always has but now from the state of a god awakened becoming the one who imagines to become the one who imagines is to stop being the effect and become the cause it is to look at everything and ask from what image did this arise and not to judge or but to correct not to flee but to elevate because the world is no longer a prison it is a mirror and The Mirror Has No will of its own it simply reflects what you hold the true Awakening to awaken is to know that there is no outside that everything occurs in you as you through you that God was never distant because you are that God dreaming feeling creating and thus when you stop acting as one who begs and begin living as one who declares the dream ends not because it disappears but because it transforms the illusion of being separate from your creation dissolves there is no longer you and the world only the one imagining multiple forms of itself and and that one is you you need no more proofs you need no more signs and you are the sign and you are the end of the dream because the moment you choose to live as the one who imagines you will no longer be born again you will create Without End and as you always have and as you always will from I am who has finally remembered who it is
